

Viv Harte and Sanja Janovic

Co-chairs of GASi Summer School at Roffey Park July 2025

Peer supervisors of LOC staff team

Viv Harte is a retired NHS consultant psychotherapist, now in private practice as a psychodynamic psychotherapist, group analyst and clinical supervisor.
Co-Chair of GASi Summer School

Sanja Janovic is a psychiatrist, training group analyst and supervisor. Chair of the GASi International Development Committee. Co-Chair of GASi MC.
Co-chair of Roffey Park Summer School

Francesca Giuseppina Bascialla MD from University Statale of Milan. Trained as psychiatrist and received Doctorate in medical Sciences at Aristotle University Thessaloniki (AUn). Group analyst IGA-Athens (IGAA). Since 2008, responsible for the IGAA's scientific and training activities organized in Thessaloniki. PG Dip in Social Dreaming from the Social Dreaming international Network in association with The Tavistock Institute. Co-chair of GASi MC and chair of LOC of Athens symposium.

Angelika Golz is a Psychotherapist and Group Analyst, working and living in Devon UK. Member of staff on the Group Analytic program in India.

Dick Blackwell was a founding member of Pat de Mare's first experiential Large Group in the 1970s, and of the Black and White Large Group in the 1980s. He has since convened LGs in a variety of settings including ten years as convenor of the LG for staff and young refugees at the Baobab Centre for Young Survivors in Exile, and has also written about de Mare's approach to the LG.

Angela Eden works as an Organisational Consultant, in organisations across the public, commercial and 3rd sector. She has her own consultancy practice 'Eden Evolution'.

<http://www.edenevolution.co.uk>

Her work is with individuals, teams and groups. She designs and runs workshops and publishes papers, around her special interest with leadership, organisational power, conflict resolution and diversity. She is active in Social Dreaming and is a practicing artist.

Fiona Parker is a counselling psychologist, group analyst and clinical supervisor. Current member of GASi management committee and membership secretary.

Nick Sarra DMan is a Group Analyst specialising in organisational dynamics and process consultancy. He is a visiting Professor at the Business School, Herts University. He also leads modules in Institutional Observation and convenes experiential Large Group work on a doctoral psychoanalytic programme at Exeter University and is an ACAS accredited mediator.

Christos Kananais a Greek Palestinian group analyst and poet. A graduate of the IGAA. He works in private practice and in collaboration with various organisation as a group therapist while also pursuing his passion for poetry.

Sarah Fofah BA Humanities, MA Cultural Therapy, group therapist, biodynamic psychotherapist.

Aisling Fegan (she /her) is an Irish artist & Community art therapist. Aisling (pronounced Ash-ling) is a HCPC registered art psychotherapist and Group Work Practitioner (GAI) with lived experience of neurodivergence, Ireland's psychiatric industry and therapeutic communities. As an artist, Aisling is using group analysis to aid her thinking, expression and understanding. Aisling works with icap (Irish Immigrant Counselling and Psychotherapy) where she meets people individually and hosts a weekly, online, art therapy group for Irish diaspora living across UK.

Erica Burman is Professor at the Manchester Institute of Education, University of Manchester where she co-convenes the Power, Inequality & Activism Research Group. Erica's work addresses the connections between emotions, mental health and (social as well as individual) change. She has co-led transnational research projects on state and interpersonal violence in relation to minoritised women and children, on educational and mental health impacts of poverty and 'austerity', on superdiversity and 'traditional' Muslim healing practices, as a co-investigator on a cross-national project on post socialist childhoods, and on practices of knowledge generation and social solidarity across communities. Her engagement with the work of Frantz Fanon over the past decade arises from and informs these various concerns and commitments.

Marci Lopez-Levy is an Argentinian group analyst with a background in anthropology and political sociology. She leads IGA diploma seminars in London and Brighton, convenes a monthly group on climate justice, and works in the UK NHS and as an organisational consultant. She is book review editor of the GA Journal.